REC'D FROM DEAN ILER 6/99

Ballarat December Friday 5th 1854 —

Dear Brother

I am in receipt of another letter from you which gave us much satisfaction. to hear that you were all well & [illegible] well. (Recd your letter Nov 22nd 1854. We were quite struck with amazement & regretted the death of our old schoolmate & friend Wm Fuller along with several others of our friends. it appears that [illegible] are all living who were alive when we left. I only hope that this paper may arrive finding you all enjoying as good health as we are at present. I mean when I say we John James & myself. James tent is within [illegible] of us now. he is as hardy as a Canadian Pony & looks about the same as when he left. only a little more flesh. this Country has agreed with him very well. he is Shepherding at present. I explained to you in my other letter what Shepherding was. but if you do not understand the meaning of Shepherding. just wait until I get back mother & I will give you a more plainer explanation of the word. John & a Young Canadian have [illegible] drays. they have plenty work. & cash for pay. not wheat flour on an order on the [illegible]. I am working the claim now. that I mentioned of Shepherding in my last letter. We bottomed it about 3 weeks ago & have been working it ever since. except what time we were forced to stop on account of the great Ballarat war. the water broke in to our shaft and caused us a great deal of trouble after the fray was over we had 25 ft. of water in our shaft. but all is quite quiet again. and we have got the water down again. our depth is 140 ft. not very deep for Ballarat. the claim if we get to work in it again will pay us middling well. the best of our dirt is in the claim yet. John & I are as Brothers yet. we share as usual. so we get a little at the time. & run our risk of getting more. I keep an Acct of what it costs us to live. so if we ever get back again you can see what it cost us to [illegible] while in this rough and ready Country of ours. it is a very good Country but it wants fencing in a little first. not the kind of a fence that Solomon & Father built around the bush. but a Government fence of [illegible] heads than the

My Dear Sir;-- If any mortal ever needed to ask for a pardon for a seemingly neglect, it sure is the writer. But while sometime has elapsed I can make some excuses. First I have been on the run this summer visiting in three states, and then we have had the hottest summer ever, and then I have been waiting to get more in the way of a record that I had when your very valuable letter came.

I sure was glad to receive it, and assure you that I will not be so negligent again. I want to congratulate you on the fine record you have so far secured on your family. and so better than I that I am ashamed to tell you what little success I have had. As you have the letter that I wrote to Mr F.B.Iler at Harrow Canada, that explains about all that I have been able to secure so far, but I have been getting after new lines and hope to be able to get something more definite and am willing to give you the benefit of my findings.

Now at present I have not a scarcely single item to add to that letter in the way of a record. This is the one thing that has delayed me from writing you as I could not add anything. But now the winter is coming along and I do most of that sort of work at this time of the year and will keep in touch with you.

Now here is the way the Eiler line runs as to our family--and starting with myself---Homer Eiler, and my father Lewis Eiler, and his father Conrad Eiler and his father --Jacob Iler ,,,, notice that I now spell his name Iler, as it seems that my grandfather Conrad is the only one of THIS Eiler branch that spells it with an --E. That was caused in the early school days when grandfather went to school and the teacher said to spell it with an E, and the reason why the other brothers and sisters of his still continued the name Iler was because the mother of my grandfather died when he was 4 years old and he was sent to other folks to raise away from all his brothers and sisters.

Now then as far as my g g grandfather [illegible] at present to find out, the children of this Jacob Iler are ---Jacob Jr--John--Conrad-(my grandfather) and a girl named Mary,(Polly) she married a man by the name of William Murphy and settled in Iowa. But we have heard that Conrad my grandfather say that there were 7 brothers in his family, and sometimes we think that he meant 7 brothers of his father, so you see we are very blank,.

My Grandfather was born in 1815 in Pickaway Co Ohio, and we have a tombstone at his fathers grave in and near Findlay Ohio which states that Jacob Sr died in 1858 aged 92 years which would make him born in 1766, and that comes close to the date of your Jacob Sr 1771. By the way did you ever hear or have any records of splaces in your records anywhere or old letters or in Bible records which speak of Findlay--Ohio---Hancock Co and Pickaway Co Ohio and Frederick Co Maryland. These are the places connected with our family.

Now then the descendents of the man John Iler live close by you in Mich and they have written me that they had heard of Ilers living close to Detroit who they claimed were related to them. But that is about all that they can claim, and I have written several of them about it.

Here are the names of these Mich folks--Charles A Iler Hopkins Mich (Rural Mail carrier)--- James T. Iler Cadillac Mich 130 Ayers St---and Mrs R. Elizabeth (Iler) Davenport at Cedar Springs Mich. They are like so many folks, and know but very little.

My grandfather left a record to us by word of mouth saying that his ancestors came from Hesse Cassell Germany, and by an examination I find that this is in what is known ~~and~~ as Allsace & Loraine, Also we are under the impression that they were of the Lutheran faith.

I want to thank you for your splendid explanantions about the name Eiler, as I intend to use it with your permit in my history when completed, if I ever got enough material for it.

Also that splendid chart you sent I want to thank you as it shows up so nicely the record. I was in hopes that I could place Jacob who was Jr, on it, as my Jacob, but can not as you see.

You know how I sometimes fix this up and I want you to write me what you think of it.---

That your Jacob Sr, and my Jacob Sr born in 1766, and yours born in 1771 were cousins first, the sons of two of the brothers who came from Germany now then this is only a supposition and not a single prooof to substantiate it.

It is certain that Jacob is a family name, and now if we only can get the names of the three brothers, and their date of coming to U.S. then we would have clear sailing. Please answer me on this point----

Now here is another thing, please do you have any names of places in Penna that are mentioned among the Iler ancestors there. Please be sure and tell me, as we have it also that while our original German ancestors settled in Frederick Co Md that later they moved over into Penna. Note that point-

Well here is hoping that you can get hold of dates and places in Pa, Md and Germany so that we can compare.

I am goingafter it strong from now on and will keep you posted and not be so negligent as before.

Again thanking you for your fine letter, and hoping to hear from you soon I am

Yours Resp,

Jonas Eiler

My Dear Sir;--Please pardon me for bothering you again, as I had been so anxious to hear from you to my letter of Sept 22 in which I wrote you fully concerning our family record.

Well Ihave been working at it all the time and do not seem to get very far with it. The trouble is of the similarity of given names, as there are so many Jacob--Conrod-- Peter--Frederick--and etc that I get confused

I was wondering if you had as I wrote any old letters speaking about places in Ohio, as refered to in my letter of Sept.22.--That would be a clue.

Notice what I said about the Ilers living in Mich claiming that the Ilers over across the line were relatives. Did you ever get in touch with ~~th~~ those names and addresses I gave you. Would suggest that you do as it might lead to something.

Have you any mention of Hesse Cassel Germany in all your records and that would be also a clue, that we both belong to this family.

That statement that there were three brothers is the item that interests me and please let us thresh this out and see what there is in it. I wish you would please suggest something for me to do to help along in the search.

Note that I had asked in that letter about the addresses of Ilers in Penna. Please give me the names of some and I will trace them.

May I have the pleasureof hearing from you soon.

Resp,

Homer Eiler

vii. Susannah Arndt, born August 16, 1762 in Adams Co., PA; died June 27, 1862 in Richland Co., OH; married John Heinrich Rummel January 23, 1795 in Adams Co., PA; born April 10, 1764 in Adams (York) Co., PA; died September 30, 1814 in War Hospital.

Notes for Susannah Arndt:

38996 "Susannah Arndt, the wife of John 38997 Rummel, was born in Adams county, Pa., Aug. 16, 1772 [sic 1762] from a family from which the town of Arndtsville, PA, derived its name. She received a common "country school" education, such as was deemed "sufficient for a woman" at that period of colonial history. She was possessed of a strong constitution, and her natural endowments and intuitive perceptions gave her a position in society as a woman whose convictions and services were appreciated in all communities where she resided.

"Being left a widow, with six children depending on her for council and support, at a time when the country was new, and the avenues and opportunities for women were all barred, except for household duties, sewing, spinning, and slavish out-door field work she, therefore, procured such labor as she could obtain. During harvest she would make a full hand, reaping with the sickle, mow, and perform all the duties connected with the care of the crops, the same as a man. But then, as now, the woman's wages were not equal to man's, for the same class of work. In winter she would prepare and spin flax and tow for summer clothing for the family; and in summer she would card and spin wool for winter clothing. And frequently after her laborious task out doors was performed, during the day, she would sit and spin, sew, or knit during the long winter evenings, not by the brilliant electric light of today, but by "pine knot faggots" which served a double purpose of light and fuel. She was possessed of great physical strength and powers of endurance. As one of the feats of her physical powers, she would stand inside of a half-bushel measure and "shoulder" a sack containing three bushels of wheat, a feat that would appear superhuman to her degenerate female descendants of the present day. Her kind ministrations to the sick always made her a favorite nurse in all neighborhoods where she resided, and on many occasions the practicing physician adopted her suggestions with success when their own remedies have proven abortive. At that stage in the country's progress the mode of traveling was on horseback, and I have seen her start out several times when the thermometer registered below zero and ride many miles to care for the sick; and many of the methods she then used have since been adopted by the "profession" and environed by "legal restraints" so that it would be "criminal" for a layman of this generation to imitate her noble example.

"Of such were the mothers of the early history of our nation, and the present generation owe them a debt of honor and gratitude that they do not appreciate

"It is from such heroic and self-sacrificing ancestry that I take just pride in tracing the genealogy of the Rummel family to the present generation." -- Jacob Rummel, Feb. 24, 1899, in the introduction of "A Century of the Rummel Family."

Notes for John Heinrich Rummel:

Joh: Heinrich, of George Rummel 48120 and Catharina 48121, bpt 4/15/1764 -- Jacob Lischy's Pastoral Record, 1743-1769, York Co, Pa. FTM CD#166.

"He had three brothers, named, George, Jacob, and David, who lived in the vicinity of Gettysburg, Adams Co., Pa., about the year 1818, but I can find no data from which I may trace their descendants." -- Jacob Rummel, Peoria, Ill., Feb. 24, 1899, in the preface to "A Century of the Rummel Family".

"John Rummel joined the Penn. militia at Gettysburg in 1812 in Capt. John

McMillan's Co. He again enlisted in the 5th Reg., under Col. James Fenton for 6 months, from Feb. 26 to Aug. 24, 1814. and was stationed at Buffalo, N.Y. Payroll records for the company show "Absent at Buffalo"; "For traveling 360 miles, 18 days, at 25 cents per day, and 18 rations at 17 cents per ration.". He was transferred from Col. Fenton's regiment to that of Col. Miller's. For his services he was honorably discharged and the government issued his widow land warrant #16701 in 1856 for 160 acres of land. From government records John died "about the last day of Sept., 1814". [According to an E-mail letter dated Mar. 2, 1999 from Merle Rummel, "He was in the battle of Lundy's Lane, Niagara, Canada, on July 25, 1814."]

The John Rummel Farm, site of Cavalry Battle, Battle of Gettysburg, July 4, 1863.
(from book: Between The Lines, 1868) -- Stuart's Confederate Cavalry came out of the woods, behind the barn. Gregg's Union Calvary was patrolling the road in front of the house. Fighting started. The Rummel family rushed to the basement of the house. A kitten got loose and ran across the yard. A 4-year old girl chased after it. Both armies stopped fighting, rescued the cat and girl, took them to the basement, then returned to their lines and resumed the battle. The house was destroyed, but was later rebuilt. There are still cannon balls in the barn beams.

The cemetery association was organized in 1874. The first burial was in December 1871, Mr. John W. Wilson, the first Civil War Veteran in the county to die in Polk County. His son, Allison T. Wilson, celebrated his 100th birthday June 16, 1967. A.T. Wilson's wife, Emma, reached her 100th birthday in 1972. They are buried in the Osceola Cemetery.

The first cemetery board consisted of, William F. Kimmel - pres., John H. Beltzer- sec., Dr Simeon 0. Whaley, Albinus Nancy, Benjamin C. Campbell, and W.E. Soring. The present cemetery board is; William R. Kepner, Don R. Byers, and Joseph M. Roberts.

HOW TO ASSEMBLE
"Ancestors of..." Chart

NOTE: Unfortunately some program imperfections (bugs) may be found in the chart at this time but they are not thought to be serious enough to prevent enjoyment of viewing the chart "as is" and/or with some carefully made manual corrections. Some connecting lines may be missing (or improperly shown). Missing lines can be drawn in (added) with a black pen. Bic "Wite-Out" can be used to hide unwanted/improper lines.

1. Sequentially number the sheets (on the back with pencil) before you start the project. Use extreme care and have unlimited patience. Have ample work space, preferably a large table.

2. If available use a paper cutter to trim the marked edge(s) off all sheets. If a paper cutter is not available carefully trim the edges with scissors or use a sharp knife and a straight edge. In the later instance use a metal straight edge (ruler) if at all possible. Precise cuts will go a long way towards a good looking chart.

3. If available use a clear glue such as Flora Craft "Styroglue" (a clear glue for Styrofoam). Elmer's white glue is acceptable if need be but will require more careful use and will not give as good an end-result.

4. Very carefully match adjacent horizontal sheets (usually 3) and press firmly together. Let the glue set a few minutes before handling the chart and proceeding to the next horizontal row of sheets.

5. Proceed in much the same manner to glue together the horizontal sections. After the chart is fully assembled scotch tape can be used on the back to reinforce the gluing.

Good luck. It is not what can be called an easy, simple job.

The Robert Paterson, son of James and Jane, was a stonemason in Scotland before emigrating. I have a copy of the sale of goods from Scotland. The house he built is still standing in good condition on St. George Street in Windsor. The Patersons were one of the first families to build away from the river.

I have a copy of the letter that Margaret Swan wrote to her sister Jane in 1852.

Historic chapel under cloud of legal battle

12-16-97

THURMONT (AP) — Eyler's Valley Chapel is holding its popular, candle-lit Christmas services under a cloud of litigation, accused of being a squatter.

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of the United Methodist Church claims ownership of the nondenominational chapel.

Chapel officials are praying for a settlement granting them continued use of the 140-year-old stone building nestled in the Catoctin Mountains 45 miles from Baltimore.

"Hopefully, it'll be settled in accordance with scripture. Scripture tells us to settle our differences among ourselves and not in a court of law," chapel board president James M. Glass said yesterday.

The lawsuit, scheduled for trial in March in Frederick County Circuit Court, was a distant concern of the more than 130 people who filled the chapel under a full moon Sunday for the first in a series of services scheduled nightly through Christmas Eve.

In the dim light of 78 red candles, they sang carols and prayed for sick relatives of fellow worshippers, some of them first-time visitors to the chapel.

The chapel holds services every Sunday night for about 90 people of various denominations who typically attend their own churches in the morning. Attendance swells to as many as 160 at Christmastime, when cars file up the narrow road to the chapel six miles north of Thurmont and cram the parking lot lit by kerosene lanterns.

The United Methodist Church sued Eyler's Valley Chapel Inc. in June. It contends it owns the chapel because it is the successor to the United Brethren Church, which built the chapel.

United Methodist spokesman Eveyln Brewster said in June that the chapel leaders were "squatters" who began holding services there after buying land adjacent to the unused building more than 25 years ago.

Since then, chapel leaders have maintained and improved the building while rebuffing repeated attempts by the United Methodists to gain exclusive use of it, according to Mr. Glass.

There are errors in the history submitted by Phyllis Metcalf but I am not criticising her history. It was written by Margaret Eiler, granddaughter of Jacob Eiler, son of Daniel & Barbara (Cripe) Eiler. I visited Margaret when she was age 91. Mind was sharp but hearing poor. (Had taught school for 40 years).Died age 97.

In the history, Margaret said Jacob Eiler had one sister and no brothers. This was wrong. Jacob had one brother and five sisters, and one sister was dead when he went toMichigan and his parents were alive then too. I don't know about his brother. I can't find him.

Welcome to the Iler Reunion

Re: pen and ink plus water color paintings of ILER BAPTIST CHURCH and west side of the Wright/Iler home, 108 Twin Gables Drive, Harrow, Ontario, CANADA

My dad, E. Bruce Iler, remembers coming out of the old church seeing Haley's Comet and it was such a bright light. I heard Otha Berry Iler sing solos in this church. My Grandmother Iler, "Winnie" also played the organ.

Peter Iler was soloist and choir director for 50 years in this church. His Golden Anniversary was held in the William Wright home where "Winnie" Iler was born in 1873 She was 4 years old when the house was moved from the end of Iler Road to Lot 37. Peter was red-headed and married Christine Fox from neighboring Lot 36. Peter used to sing when milking morning and evening and his voice would carry across the fields Charlie Huffman said when I was displaying my Iler History and all for Harrow Early Immigrant Society, Harrow, Ontario, "I heard that man sing!"

Note: "Noni" had an ear infection and went to the hospital. They had to cancel out. "Bob"

FIRST TIMERS to an ILER REUNION had to be canceled because of an emergency trip to the hospital in Crossville, Tennessee with an ear infection.

Nora "Noni" Bossom Fleming is a descendant of the Ilers through Andrew Iler, known as "Red" and wife Norah Allen Iler. Andrew was the son of David and Mary Ann Fox Iler. The Foxes were on Lot 36 and Ilers on Lot 37 Front Concession.

I brought the painting "Nonie" did for me and you can view it. It is pen and ink plus water colors of the Iler Baptist Church and the west end of the white farm house on Lot 37 that was moved from the Iler Road to this lot in 1877. I think you will enjoy this painting.

I sent them some Iler Rose bush roots this year and they say they are doing just fine in Tennessee.

"Noni" mentioned a nephew she has not seen in 35 years, Edward Ingelman. I called and invited him to come to the Iler Reunion.

I was told I was not too far from them when I visited a friend of mine who worked with me at Douglas and Lomason Company in Detroit. He went into the army and I heard from him. I finally wrote to him at Daylight, Tennessee and got an answer back. He was postmaster at the Daylight Post Office. There is no Daylight anymore. I looked in my new World Atlas. I remember driving my car in a shallow stream to wash it when I was there. I still keep in touch with him. Arsey Womack and his wife Betty. It is now called McMinnville, Tennessee (or merged since Daylight was so small.) I remember the postoffice was built around a big tree at that time .

THANKS . . . Earl and Betty Iler . . .

We appreciate so much your allowing us to take our annual Iler Reunion picture by the old Jesuit Pear Tree which has been on this farm for many years. It makes our reunion special this year we moved from Twin Gables to Iler Road and on your farm.

I often think back when I would drive from Chicago, Illinois to come and help my Dad at the park after mother had passed away in 1969. In order to get to talk to you, I would see where you were driving the tractor, stop, pull over to the side and wait for you to come by - then jump on the tractor and carried on our conversation. I drove many miles those years from Chicago to Harrow, but it was worth it.

Be sure you all join us in this picture including your sister too, Betty, Harley and Greg and family also.

We are happy to have Gerald Walter and Jean (Rae) Iler with us from Millerrville, Maryland. I met them at Cranberry Lake in New York in 1965. I have been in their home when I arranged a concert of the Moody Men's Glee Club I conducted for 15 years during the nearly 30 years I was at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Illinoi

Batteries are stored in the box below the set and a fishing rod serves as an aerial. ILER BAPTIST CEMETERY - David Iler's Rock and Bronze Plaque at entrance of this Cemetery on Iler property. William Wright sold land fo this use.

Annual HUTCHIN'S FAMILY REUNION IS BEING HELD TODAY IN THE Kingsville Park. Ke Turner and Bob Iler and several of her family helped clean up and marked burial suites which amounted to 41. They thought only 4 were buried there. They are placing a monument and other additions to their cemetery this year.

Alice Hutchins had a book on the family printed last year at their reunion.

ILER SETTLEMENT CEMETERY - with the new system of locating burials of our deceas in 1956 I had 41 listed. Last spring Ken Turner and I checked out with the new system and founder there are 141 buried there. I noted also a comment from Gra Iler ("Winnie") that she said many more were buried in this cemetery but do not have any markers. There are a few with rocks

Robert Lawrence Iler, 4003 Be[illegible]min Avenue
; Royal Oak, Michigan 48073-1835. 1-810-549-2025. Jacob Iler was a brother to Samuel Eilar.

ILER SETTLEMENT

Jacob was the great grandson of Conrad, the first Iler to come to America along with 129 Palatinates from southern Bavaria, Germany, sailing from Rotterdam, Netherlands, July 7, 1729, arriving in Philadelphia, Pa. Sept. 11, 1729. The Ilers, Kulps, and Sniders came because they wanted to be free to worship according to the principles and doctrines of the Brethren Church and to train their families in the "Way of the Lord."

"Ensign Jacob Aeiler" was a tenant farmer on Grosse Ile, Michigan, for 16 years. He resigned his post on Grosse Ile on January 6, 1806. As tension between Canada and the United States did not permit his moving to Lots 37 and 38, Jacob transported his family and all his goods across the frozen Detroit River by sleighs in the dead of night to settle on his land in 1808.

West Side of Monument

Church services were held in Jacob's log cabin. Later, two churches and two schools were built, and two cemeteries were laid out on his property.

THE LOYALIST ROSE

The Loyalist Rose is an ancient rose of the Rosa Alba family, identified as "Maiden's Blush". It was taken to England from Damascus during the Crusades. The Camerons, of Scotland, brought it with them to Sir William Johnson's estates in the Mohawk Valley, New York. After the Revolution, the Cameron women took a root with them on the 230 mile trek over the Appalachians to the Cornwall area of Canada.

It blooms in June with a double petal, blush-pink flower and grows normally to a height of three to four feet. It is illustrated in many Rennaissance paintings, notably Botticelli's "Birth of Venus". It was a treasured possession, vital to their survival. From its flowers, stalks, leaves and hips, they could make medicines, teas and many delicacies. We now know, of course, that the rose hips contain vitamin C which prevents scurvy, which plagued the early discoverers and settlers. Locally, it has been known to be called the Iler Rose.

PLANTING AND GROWING INSTRUCTIONS

Plant firmly in good soil in moderately sunny location and water well until it is established.

DO NOT cut back in the fall. Thin only by cutting out old canes after blooming or cutting out the dead canes.

This Antique Rose is hardy and can be left largely to nature.

Note: Conrad Iler first Iler to America on the Ship Allen sailing from Rotterdam, Netherlands (from southern Bavaria, Germany) on July 7 to September 11, 1729 and settled in Maryland-Pennsylvania regions. They migrated to Grosse Ile, Michigan about 1791 and became a tenant farmer on this land for 16 years. Then in 1808, in the night on sleighs over the frozen river, got into Canada and settled on Lot 57 Front Concession. RLI 6/97

Subject: ancestor chart

Hi Morgan,

I received a copy of my ancestor chart that you so kindly mailed to me. I think I will send you my gedcom files now but keep in mind that I still have to go back and finish entering all of my sources. Would you like it on a disk, or should I e-mail it to you? I plan to buy a CD burner when I do a little more research on which kind to buy. I want an external one so I can use it for home and work. Any suggestions?

The Iler side of my chart looks good, although I do have a little more detail in my records.

The following is additional information on my ancestors, which is probably more than you care to know about me. Use the information as you want.

Leo Clark's father is Edward T. Clark, b. 15 February 1857 in Carroll, OH, d. 24 December 1930 in Fostoria, OH. Married Therese Thomas 6 April 1881 in Carey, OH. Therese (Tarry) b. 30 September 1861, d. 23 July 1933 in Fostoria, OH. Her parents are Jacob Thomas and Mary Putnam. I'm just starting to look at this side of the family.

48663 48664

It looks like I may have confused you with the Massie side of my chart. Kathryn Ruhamma Massie b. 22 January 1892 in Vinton Co., OH d. 8 April 1938 in Fostoria, OH. Married 16 July 1911 in Jackson, OH to Guy Sanford Johnson b. 22 July 1886 in Jackson, OH d. 1947 in Fostoria, OH.

48615

Kathryn Massie's father was William Riley Massie b. 1 December 1862 in Gallia Co., OH, d. 28 December 1926 in Fostoria, OH. William married Lucinda Ella Perkins b. 4 May 1871 in Jackson, OH d. 4 November 1921 in Fostoria, OH.

48616

The father of Lucinda Perkins was Abraham Dupre b. 1 January 1818 in St. Peters Parish, Isle of Jersey, d. 25 September 1894 in Gallia, OH. On 5 December 1833 in Gallia, OH, Abraham married Mary 48656 "Polly" Deckard b. 8 April 1814 in Greenbrier Co., WVA d. 27 April 1888 in Gallia Co., OH.

48657

Alexander Massie's father was Thomas Massie b. 1806 in VA. Married 2 February 1828 in Monroe Co., WVA to Abigail Meadows. 48658

48659

Thomas Massie's father was Jeptha Massie, Jr. b. 1779 in Monroe Co., WVA d. 1853 in Lawrence Co., OH. Married 27 February 1806 in Monroe Co. WVA to Ann Meadows b. 1788 Monroe Co. WVA.

48660

I go back about four more generations on the Massie line. I also have more on Susan Dupre's line but I think this is already more than you wanted to hear.

Did I send you the records of Rufus Massie and Emma Oiler? I could put the Massie's on a separate disk. I track the families separately.

Thanks for all of your interest.

Dear Morgan,

My name is Georgeann Eyler b1958. In surfing the web trying to help my father trace his roots I have heard that there is an Eyler/Euler/Iler newsletter and database and it was recommended that getting in touch with you is a great way to move our search forward.

I am descended through George Eyler b.1815, Frances Marion Eyler b. 1847, George Eyler b. 1889? and George Eyler b. 1923 Pawnee, OK (my father). The family lived in Illinois and made the land run into Oklahoma where my father lives today in Norman.

If we can get back to a German connection, I may be able to pick up the search on my end as I live in Amsterdam. Family lore has it that the Eylers from which we descend left from Germany for the States by way of the port in Rotterdam, which is only an hour away from Amsterdam. As soon as I have a bit more information I can try to track down the Holland America records and see what I can turn up.

Any information you have would be greatfully received, with the promise to forward anything new we may turn up.

Kind regards,
Georgeann

Dear Morgan,

I was thrilled to hear from you! Thank you so much for the willingness to share information with us. I am trying to help my father, George, who lives in Norman, Oklahoma with this. To be honest, we are beginners in the genealogy game. Naturally, I will update you with information as it comes in to me. It could also be that you receive information from my father.

We have also been in touch with Linda Worstell in Utah and she has mailed a package of Eyler information to my father. She will also be sending him a package of information on Selinda Jane Study when she has some time to put it together.

Additionally, we have been in touch with Trent Eyler in Tulsa, who seems to have a lot of information which is close to our branch of the family. He has already cleared up a bunch of questions we had. He is meeting my parents and my father's sister Helen in Stillwater, OK in search of further roots.

Sometime next week I will update you with more information about George Washington Eyler and Pearl May Freaner (spelled incorrectly in my last e-mail) and their descendents. — 39528
George and Pearl had 5 children of which my father is the youngest.
There are 8 children descended from that generation (of which I am one, together with my older brother and 3 younger sisters).
And those 8 children currently have 11 children -- with one on the way! As I am new at this, I hope I don't make an indecipherable mess of it!

It seems to make sense for you to send snail mail information to my father so that you won't be out the cost of international postage.
His address is:

George Eyler 48680
201 Overton Dr.
Norman, OK 73071
tel: (405) 364-3631

My address is:

48682
Georgeann Eyler
Titiaanstraat 1
1077 RC Amsterdam
Netherlands

I was very sorry to hear about the loss of your wife. In this day and age it is an admirable achievement to have a marriage of more than 50 years! My husband and I will be celebrating our 10th anniversary in September and I only hope that we can live up to the good examples set for us by the previous generation.

Kind regards,
Georgeann

He returned to the government in 1973, spending a year with the Cost of Living Council, then four years at the Energy Department, where he was a personnel management specialist, before retiring in 1978. After that, he did consulting work. He also spent about 20 years as a part-time real estate agent with agencies in the Washington area.

Mr. Beale, who was born in Bluemont, Va., came to Arlington at an early age. He was a graduate of Washington-Lee High School and an accounting graduate of Southeastern University. He served with the Army in the Pacific during World War II.

He served as a senior warden, vestryman and acolytes director at St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Arlington. He was a member of the American Legion Unknown Soldier Post in Arlington and the Herndon Legion Post No. 184. He also belonged to historical societies in Arlington and Great Falls and was a member of the Optimist Club of Arlington.

His first wife, Louise Hunsberger Beale, died in 1986.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Eyler Beale of Great Falls; two sons from his first marriage, William G. Beale of Great Falls and Richard C. Beale of Virginia Beach; two brothers, W. Turner Beale of Coral Springs, Fla., and James D. Beale of Ocala, Fla.; a sister, Virginia Murray of Leesburg; and six grandchildren.

Rallies along the rails nothing new

Article Text:

When President Clinton rolls into northwest Ohio tomorrow on the "21st Century Express," en route to Chicago, he'll be continuing a tradition launched by Stephen A. Douglas, perfected by Harry S. Truman, and derailed by planes and television

Once whistle-stopping, as such campaign tours are known, was a way for presidents and their opponents to meet mostly small-town voters in the flesh and seriously impact the November result.

Now whistle-stops have a different objective.

"They go out for one or two days because they know they will get a lot of media attention," says Tom White, a spokesman for the Association of American Railroads.

In other words, the small-town folks are secondary to the millions reached at home.

Still, whistle-stopping, no matter how brief or contrived, appears to touch a nostalgic nerve with voters. After all, what could possibly be more folksy than a train station rally featuring a candidate for president of the United States? Bob Withers remembers' such a moment, in 1952, when Dwight Eisenhower made a whistle-stop visit to Huntington, W.Va.

"I was in second grade, and I was amazed," says Mr. Withers, 51, a reporter at the Herald-Dispatch in Huntington, W.Va., and the author of the recently published book, The President Travels by Train.

From Mr. Withers, we learn that Andrew Jackson's 13-mile trip from Baltimore to Ellicot's Mills, Md., in 1833 was the first presidential journey by rail. Three years later William Henry Harrison, the Whig Party's nominee, became the first candidate for president to campaign by rail. He lost to Martin Van Buren but four years later took to the rails again and won.

Stephen A. Douglas, a U.S. senator from Illinois, is widely regarded as the first of the real whistle-stoppers. The term was coined after engineers tooted their whistles when discharging passengers at small towns with irregular service. A charismatic orator. Douglas used the technique to help him whip Abraham Lincoln in the 1858 Illinois Senate race. He barn-stormed from one town to the next, announcing his arrival with a cannon shot and speaking from a flat-car according to Mr. Withers. ion. Along the way Lincoln stopped in Columbus and Cleveland, but bypassed northwest Ohio. Four years later the president's body made a final return trip by train to Springfield following his assassination.

Although presidents in the second half of the 19th century continued to travel by rail - Andrew Johnson, Ulysses Grant, and Rutherford B. Hayes all visited Toledo - they did little campaigning. Apparently, their opponents followed suit.

In those days, it was not polite or proper for a presidential candidate to campaign," says Mr. Withers.

That notion changed when Williams Jennings Bryan, the former Nebraska senator challenged Ohio Gov. William McKinley for the White House in 1896. While McKinley, the heavily favored Republican, never left his front porch during the campaign, Jennings, a Democrat, took to the rails with a gusto that hadn't been witnessed in presidential politics. In 100 days, he traveled 18,000 miles, covered 27 states, and delivered 600 speeches in a private car supplied by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad.

Bryan made a whistle-stop visit to Toledo on Oct. 19 of that year arriving at Union Station at 6:20 a.m., according to The Blade. After bathing on the train, Bryan spoke briefly to his supporters before leaving for Perrysburg, where he gave another speech to a less-admiring crowd.

Bryan lost that election and the next one, too. But other candidates soon duplicated his campaigning style. Theodore Roosevelt was one in 1904, during his victorious race with Alton B. Parker chief justice of the New York State Court of Appeals.

"He went everywhere," says Mr. Withers, adding that Roosevelt covered more miles and made more speeches than Bryan. But that wasn't enough to satisfy the fellow known as the "Rough Rider."

"He liked to make friends with the crew and then run the engines," says Mr. Withers.

The next notable whistle-stop-per was Theodore Roosevelt's cousin, Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was the first president to have his own rail car which was commissioned during World War II by the Secret Service, which was worried about his safety. Named the "Ferdinand Magellan," the car had walls reinforced with armored plating, windows with three-inch-thick bullet-proof plate glass, and weighed 14 tons empty.

FDR made three whistle-stop journeys as president to Toledo, in 1935, 1936, and 1937; only the 1936 stopover was a campaign trip. After a seven-minute, platform speech at Union Station in October of the following year someone shouted to the president, "Don't forget the waterway" in reference to support for construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"You're right!" said the president, who promised, as his train departed, to return to Toledo. He never did.

It was Franklin Roosevelt, says Mr. Withers, who devised the strategy of having his train start rolling the moment his speech ended to enhance the drama of his visit.

The most prolific of the whistle stoppers was President Truman. Many believe the 30,000 miles he traveled by rail during his 194 campaign against New York Gov. Thomas Dewey was the difference in his dramatic comeback victory. Included in the tour was an Oct. 25 visit to Toledo, where he left the train, paraded in front of 50,000 people through downtown, and spoke at the old Civic Auditorium.

During the president's journey Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio criticized him as "black-guarding Congress at whistle-stops all across the country."

78
1916

"Taft had blundered," wrote New York Times columnist William Safire. "Whistle-stop was an insult to a town, nearly as bad as calling its residents hicks."

Much later when asked about his whistle-stop tours, Truman joked, "You know, that phrase was invented by Senator Taft."

Dwight Eisenhower was a part-time whistle-stopper. He was the last president to seriously campaign by rail; television had become too important, air travel too easy John F. Kennedy for instance, made only a single whistle-stop tour - a one-day run through southern Michigan in October 1960. Mr. Kennedy later predicted that whistle-stopping would be seriously revived in future campaigns, says Mr. Withers. It never was.

Richard Nixon visited Toledo by train during the 1960 campaign on a tour called the "Nixon Victory Special." But it was during a brief, 1968 whistle-stop campaign, on Oct. 22, that Mr. Nixon and the Toledo area developed a historical link. Near Deshler Mr. Nixon spotted a 13-year-old girl, Vicki Lynn Cole, holding up a sign that read, "Bring Us Together Again." Mr. Nixon said the slogan inspired the "Forward Together" theme that helped carry him to victory over Hubert Humphrey.

Eighteen years later President Reagan brought the "Ferdinand Magellan" out of moth balls for a trip from Dayton to Perrysburg during his 1984 re-election campaign against Walter Mondale.

84 Lucius "Sackhead" Eyler of Toledo was the CSX engineer that day Oct. 12. Mr. Eyler who earned his moniker from wearing brown paper sacks in lieu of hats, wasn't overly impressed with the assignment.

"To me, it was just another run,'" he says, "though I felt good that the company felt I could handle the train well enough."

Mr. Eyler now 78 and retired, recalls that Mr. Reagan was supposed to have visited him in the engine during the trip, but never did. Mr. Eyler not known for his timidity reminded the president of that when they finally shook hands in Perrysburg.

Mr. Reagan apologized and told Mr. Eyler "Those whistle-stops come awful fast, Sack."

President Bush's 22-car "Spirit of America" whizzed right through Toledo in 1992 during a quick tour that began in Columbus and ended in Grand Blanc, Mich. The former president chose to stop in more Republican-friendly Findlay and Bowling Green instead.

Mr. Clinton favored the bus that year for the homespun segment of his campaign. This time, he'll return to the bus for a two-day western tour after the convention. It is unlikely Mr. Clinton will journey by rail after Chicago, campaign officials said.

If Harry Truman were still around, he would consider that a shame. Here's how he felt about campaign whistle-stopping, according to Mr. Withers:

"You get a great feeling of this country and the people in it when you're speaking from the back of a train. And the further you get away from that, the worse off you are, the worse off the country is, and the easier it gets for the stuffed shirts, and the counterfeits, and the fellows from Madison Avenue to put it over on the people.

Dan

I just returned yesterday from a two week trip to the east and am just now trying to think of getting caught up with email and mail that accumulated in my absence.

My files contain 62,000+ names relative to some 45,000+ people. I don't have a precise count of "Eiler's" or "Eilers'" but at a rough guess I probably have at least 12,000 names which could be of interest to you. Where do I start? There is a world of difference between the two surnames
